

Bathroom Reader

Volume 10, Issue 3

March 1-15, 2009

The Winter Indoor Olympics is coming to the UW-Fox Library!

When you return from Spring Break, bring your $$$ and participate in the Winter Olympics in the library. We have ping pong, hockey, and more. It is $1 to play each game and the proceeds go to a worthy cause, the new Communication Arts Center.

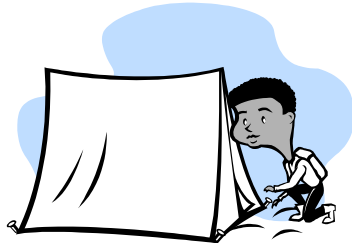

Place: The UW-Fox Valley Library

Time: Monday March 30 from 9 AM—3 PM

Get a team! Get a professor! Get a friend to participate. Encourage your fellow students and come and watch the action!

The Great Outdoors

The Library has a display of materials from the Dept. of Natural Resources on the hunting, fishing, and camping regulations for Wisconsin. Feel free to take the brochures and contact the DNR with any questions you have regarding the great outdoors in Wisconsin at <http://www.dnr.state.wi.us>

National Women's History Month

For more information, check the library catalog for books and journals or online at the National Women's History Project at www.nwhp.org.

Confused About How To Correctly Cite Sources ?

Are you writing research papers and getting headaches when trying to correctly cite your sources? If you are, you should try Noodle Tools! Noodle Tools is a web based citation tool that helps you correctly build and cite any type of source in MLA, APA, or Chicago/Turabian style. And as a student, you can access it for FREE from the Library. Once you set up your account on campus, you can access it anywhere you have an internet connection. Still not sure?

Ask a Librarian!

Daylight Savings Time begins March 8, 2009